BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO, FIREARMS AND EXPLOSIVES INDUSTRY OPERATIONS INVESTIGATOR POSITIONS

Grades 5, 7, and 9

WANT TO BE AN INDUSTRY OPERATIONS INVESTIGATOR?

Industry operations investigators are the backbone of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives' (ATF) regulatory mission. Their work is primarily investigative and routinely involves contact with, and interviews of, individuals from all walks of life and all levels of industry and government. Investigations and inspections pertain to the industries and persons regulated by ATF (e.g., users, dealers, importers, exporters, manufacturers, wholesalers, etc.); and are under the jurisdiction of the Gun Control Act, National Firearms Act, Arms Export Control Act, Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 and other Federal firearms and explosives laws and regulations.

Please review the enclosed information regarding salary and benefits, basic requirements, and conditions of employment.

Applications for position openings will ONLY be accepted in response to a specific ATF job opportunity announcement.

For updates on ATF industry operations investigator recruitment efforts, please visit our website at www.atf.gov or contact a local ATF field division.

ATF is looking for energetic, innovative, solution-oriented professionals to assist the ATF team in its mission to prevent terrorism, reduce violent crime and protect the public.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer

POSITION INFORMATION

Position Title and Grade Levels: Industry Operations Investigator, GS-1801, Grade Levels 5, 7, and 9.

Major Duties: The incumbent conducts investigations and inspections designed to carry out the Federal Government's regulatory responsibilities pertaining to the firearms and explosives industries. Identifies evidence of falsification of records, inventories and document discrepancies through the analysis and examining of records, documents, and reports. Refers violations to criminal investigators for further action.

Determines if persons desiring to enter business in the regulated industries meet established legal requirements for obtaining a Federal permit or license. Conducts interviews, inspects buildings, and performs routine background investigations to determine suitability of applicants for Federal licenses and permits. Prepares reports detailing results of investigations and inspections, and recommends further action when necessary.

Utilizes knowledge of the Federal and state laws involving commerce in alcohol and tobacco, provides assistance to senior industry operations investigators, who are working with criminal investigators on alcohol and tobacco diversion investigations. The incumbent as directed verifies inventories and utilizes intelligence data to analyze records and examine business operations.

Participates in conferences and discussions with Bureau officials concerning investigations and inspections. May develop presentations for industry associations and the public.
